

The Upstairs

EAT MORE PASTA.

Once a character-filled family apartment to a desirable modern pad to a vision brought to life. We're proud to invite you upstairs at Fiorella Pasta. Its most recent transformation was realized so that the Pasta Sisters could welcome family and friends alike to celebrate birthdays, graduation, reunions, and all the life celebrations in between.

The Counter

EAT MORE PASTA.

To describe the counter at Fiorella Pasta as iconic may be a bold but we're confident that it holds true. For 125 years, 817 Christian Street was home to Fiorella's Sausage. It's not uncommon for someone to wander in looking for the original coarse-ground pork shoulder, salt, pepper, and fennel. Which can now be found in the rigatoni. Today, we sling pasta, lots of pasta. So, if you're looking to get in the action at the iconic Fiorella Pasta counter, the details are as follows.
